

Best Practice – Consider at all locations

Proprietary Mobile Cutting Station

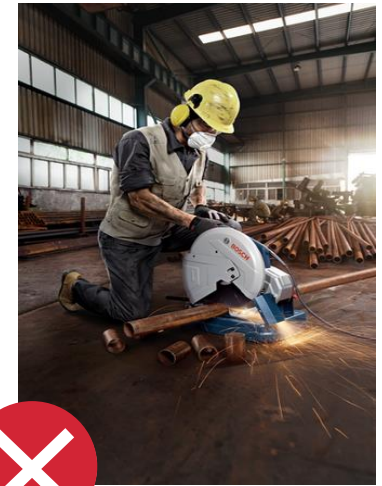

Mobile cutting stations must be considered for the cutting of long materials with powered tools.

Benefits of using this equipment are:

- Chop saw positioned at a safe working height and long materials removed from floor.
- Reduced noise through built in sound deadening material.
- Can be fitted with local exhaust ventilation to reduce fumes and dusts.

Minimum requirements where these are used are:

- Suitable material supports
- Power supply for tools and task lighting
- Lockable wheels
- PVC screens reduce sparks
